Program Overview

The Doctor of Ministry in Biblical Counseling is a professional doctorate for leaders who build, train, and oversee counseling ministries. Students integrate Scripture, psychology, and practice, and study advanced models of trauma and forgiveness.

How EACU Is Different

EACU counseling courses bring Scripture, research, and real human stories together. Students examine trauma, attachment, grief, and spiritual warfare from every side, including what Scripture states, what research shows, and where the two meet, and they learn when care should be referred to licensed professionals.

At the doctoral level, EACU students become the ones who walk others through the evidence. Every course requires students to examine a question from every side, then build and defend their own position, and the doctoral project turns that work into something that can be taught, published, or put into practice.

> Required in every EACU degree: Biblical Interpretation (Rightly Dividing the Word), Biblical Finance and Stewardship, and Biblical Mindset and Mental Health. Every course is built with visual, auditory, reading and writing, and hands-on learning.

Please note: This degree prepares students for counseling within ministry, church, and community settings. It does not lead to state licensure or professional certification, including as a professional counselor or therapist.

Program Outcomes

1. Integrate Scripture, psychology, and counseling practice at an advanced level.
2. Apply and evaluate trauma and forgiveness models.
3. Build and lead sustainable counseling ministries.
4. Train and supervise lay counselors.
5. Design, conduct, and defend an original doctoral project.

Where This Degree Can Lead

- Director of a counseling or care ministry
- Trainer of lay counselors
- Author and speaker on healing and forgiveness
- Founder of a faith-based counseling center

Admission

A completed master's degree. See Admissions for full requirements.

Career paths above are examples only; EACU does not provide job placement or promise employment (Handbook Section 12).
