Program Overview

The Master of Arts in Biblical Life and Leadership Coaching prepares students for advanced coaching of executives, ministry leaders, and teams, using proven models, assessments, and supervised practice.

How EACU Is Different

Students learn coaching by practicing it. Every model is examined from every side, weighing what Scripture says about purpose, calling, and growth alongside proven coaching methods, so graduates develop their own coaching approach rather than copying someone else's.

At the graduate level, students weigh the biblical text, ancient witnesses, research, and later interpretation side by side, then build and defend their own position with scholarly rigor while remaining grounded in the foundation of truth.

> Required in every EACU degree: Biblical Interpretation (Rightly Dividing the Word), Biblical Finance and Stewardship, and Biblical Mindset and Mental Health. Every course is built with visual, auditory, reading and writing, and hands-on learning.

Please note: Coaching is distinct from counseling and therapy. Students learn the boundary between them and when to refer. This degree does not lead to state licensure or professional certification, including as a counselor or therapist.

Program Outcomes

1. Apply advanced coaching models.
2. Coach executives and ministry leaders.
3. Lead group and team coaching.
4. Use assessments responsibly in coaching.
5. Complete supervised coaching and an applied project.

Where This Degree Can Lead
