Program Overview

The Master of Arts in Deliverance and Spiritual Warfare advances students in the theology of spiritual warfare, the spirit world in Second Temple literature, the relationship between deliverance and mental health, and the training of ministry teams.

How EACU Is Different

Deliverance is often taught from one person's experience. EACU examines it from every side: what Scripture states, what 1 Enoch and other ancient texts describe about the spirit world, how the church has practiced deliverance across history and traditions, and where mental health care must be part of the picture. All power originates with the Most High, and students learn to minister from that foundation.

At the graduate level, students weigh the biblical text, ancient witnesses, research, and later interpretation side by side, then build and defend their own position with scholarly rigor while remaining grounded in the foundation of truth.

> Required in every EACU degree: Biblical Interpretation (Rightly Dividing the Word), Biblical Finance and Stewardship, and Biblical Mindset and Mental Health. Every course is built with visual, auditory, reading and writing, and hands-on learning.

Please note: Students learn to discern between spiritual, emotional, and medical needs and to refer to licensed professionals when appropriate. This degree does not lead to state licensure or professional certification in counseling or health care.

Program Outcomes

1. Articulate a theology of spiritual warfare.
2. Analyze Second Temple teaching on the spirit world.
3. Integrate deliverance ministry with mental health discernment and referral.
4. Lead intercessory and strategic prayer.
5. Complete and defend graduate-level research or an applied project.
