Program Overview

The Master of Arts in Prophetic and Seer Studies deepens the study of prophecy and apocalyptic literature, including Daniel, Enoch, and Revelation, and prepares leaders to develop prophetic teams with pastoral care.

How EACU Is Different

Prophetic ministry is examined from every side: the prophets and seers of Scripture, the visionary tradition of 1 Enoch and apocalyptic literature, the prophetic life of the early church, and the practice of prophecy across traditions today. Students learn to test what they receive, recognize patterns, and minister with accountability.

At the graduate level, students weigh the biblical text, ancient witnesses, research, and later interpretation side by side, then build and defend their own position with scholarly rigor while remaining grounded in the foundation of truth.

Required in every EACU degree: Biblical Interpretation (Rightly Dividing the Word), Biblical Finance and Stewardship, and Biblical Mindset and Mental Health. Every course is built with visual, auditory, reading and writing, and hands-on learning.

Program Outcomes

1. Articulate a theology of prophecy.
2. Interpret apocalyptic literature in its ancient context.
3. Analyze the seer tradition in Scripture and ancient texts.
4. Integrate prophetic ministry with pastoral care.
5. Complete and defend graduate-level research or an applied project.
