Program Overview

The Bachelor of Science in Biblical Psychology explores how people think, feel, develop, and behave, and how Scripture speaks to the human mind and soul. Students study development, personality, cognition, the brain, abnormal psychology, and research methods, with a statistics course built into general education.

How EACU Is Different

Students study the mind and behavior through Scripture and science side by side, asking what each reveals about the human soul. Rather than choosing one over the other, students weigh the research, the biblical text, and the ancient understanding of body, soul, and spirit, and draw their own conclusions.

Every EACU degree walks students through the evidence from every side and asks them to reach, write, and defend their own conclusions, while remaining grounded in the foundation of truth. Students learn to distinguish what the biblical text states, what ancient and later traditions add, and what interpreters have concluded.

> Required in every EACU degree: Biblical Interpretation (Rightly Dividing the Word), Biblical Finance and Stewardship, and Biblical Mindset and Mental Health. Every course is built with visual, auditory, reading and writing, and hands-on learning.

Please note: This degree studies psychology from a biblical perspective. It does not lead to state licensure or professional certification, including as a psychologist, counselor, or therapist.

Program Outcomes

1. Explain major areas of psychology, including development, cognition, and personality.
2. Integrate psychological research with biblical understanding of the soul.
3. Interpret basic research and statistics.
4. Describe trauma, stress, and resilience from psychological and biblical perspectives.
5. Produce and defend original research in scholarly writing.
