

EACU Student Catalog and Handbook

Enoch Ascension Christian University · Effective October 29, 2026

1. Welcome and Purpose

This Catalog and Handbook is the official source of policies, programs, costs, and student rights at Enoch Ascension Christian University (EACU). Every student and prospective student receives it before enrolling.

Purpose of the institution. EACU exists to cultivate leaders who know the Kingdom of God from the inside out. It provides rigorous academic formation, practical ministry and professional application, and a collaborative community where every voice, contribution, and calling is honored.

Vision. To cultivate a generation of kingdom leaders who first discover the Kingdom of God within, then ascend in wisdom and knowledge, and go forth together to transform every sphere of society.

Our approach. "We don't teach what to think. We awaken truth and walk in love." EACU walks students through texts, including the Bible and ancient writings such as 1 Enoch and Jubilees, so they can think critically and reach their own conclusions. Studying a text does not mean endorsing it.

Effective date and changes. This edition is effective October 29, 2026. EACU may update policies, programs, and costs. The version in effect when a student signs the enrollment agreement governs that enrollment.

2. Institutional Status, Licensure, and Accreditation

Legal status. Enoch Ascension Christian University, LLC is a religious educational institution registered in Florida.

Licensure status. EACU operates under a religious exemption from licensure by the Florida Commission for Independent Education, under Section 1005.06(1)(f), Florida Statutes. EACU is not licensed by the Commission. The degrees EACU awards are religious in nature and carry religious titles.

Scope of accreditation. EACU is accredited by the Council for Independent Theological Education (CITE). CITE is an independent accrediting body established by EACU's founder to set standards for non-denominational theological education and the study of Second Temple and other ancient literature. CITE is not recognized by the U.S. Department of Education or the Council for Higher Education Accreditation (CHEA). Because of this, EACU credits and degrees may not be accepted by other institutions, employers, or licensing boards. See Section 9, Transfer of Credits.

Honorary doctorates. An honorary doctorate recognizes sustained service, leadership, and impact. It is not an earned academic degree.

3. Facilities and Online Delivery

EACU is 100% online, with no physical campus, classrooms, library building, or housing. All instruction is delivered through MyEACU, EACU's online learning platform, reached through the MyEACU tab on enochascension.com.

- Florida address: 7901 4th St N, STE 300, St. Petersburg, FL 33702 (administrative address; no instruction takes place there)
- Mailing address: 7742 Barbara Dr, McCalla, AL 35111
- Learning platform: MyEACU, for courses, assignments, grades, and messaging between students and instructors
- Academic year: three semesters (Spring, Summer, Fall), each with two 8-week sessions. Students may start at the beginning of any session, and applications and registration are open year-round.
- Learning materials: EACU publishes its own ebook texts, including its collected edition of biblical and ancient texts, provided inside the courses
- What students need: a computer or tablet, reliable internet access, and an email address

2027 academic calendar:

Semester	Session 1	Session 2	Register by
Spring	Jan 18 to Mar 12	Mar 22 to May 14	Jan 6
Summer	May 17 to Jul 9	Jun 28 to Aug 20	May 5
Fall	Aug 23 to Oct 15	Oct 25 to Dec 17	Aug 11

Sessions within a semester may overlap by a few weeks so students can keep a steady pace. A student enrolled in two overlapping sessions carries both courses during the overlap.

Students may gather in person at optional EACU events, such as commencement weekend. Attendance at events is never required to complete a program.

4. Programs and Curricula

EACU offers 18 bachelor's programs, 19 master's programs, 16 Doctor of Ministry programs, and 12 hybrid dual degrees, plus an honorary doctorate recognition program. Each degree page on enochascension.com lists its full course plan.

Honorary doctorate recognition: Nominations, for yourself or someone else, are due August 20. Honorees complete the three required courses at the D.Min. level between January 18 and October 15, and their final Biblical Interpretation assignment is published in an EACU anthology, currently the Rightly Divided series. Recipients are honored at commencement on the first weekend of November and may use "Dr." with "(Hon.)" in faith-based, ministry, and community settings. An honorary doctorate is not an earned academic degree.

All degrees are religious in nature. See Section 11 before choosing a counseling, psychology, health, or chaplaincy program.

5. Admissions

Students apply through enochascension.com, with applications open year-round. Once accepted, students enroll in classes and receive a link to set up their MyEACU account. Students from every background are welcome; EACU is not bound to any denomination.

How EACU assesses readiness before admission. EACU confirms that each applicant has completed the level of education needed to succeed in the program applied for:

Program	Admission requires	Proof submitted
Bachelor's	High school diploma or equivalent	Diploma, GED, or homeschool completion record
Master's	Completed bachelor's degree	Transcript
Hybrid dual degree	Completed bachelor's degree	Transcript
D.Min.	Completed master's degree	Transcript

Transcripts are also used for transfer credit review (Section 9). Applicants receive a summary of what transfers before their first session.

EACU may admit a student based on an unofficial transcript or a copy of the diploma. Official documents must be received before the end of the student's first session.

6. Tuition and Fee Schedule

These are all the fees and costs a student will be charged. Tuition is paid through enochascension.com, in full or through a payment plan.

Program	Total program tuition	Per credit	Per 3-credit course	Application fee (nonrefundable)	Enrollment fee (one time, nonrefundable)
Bachelor's (120 credits)	$4,000	$33.33	$100.00	$55	$50
Master's (36 credits)	$5,400	$150.00	$450.00	$70	$50
D.Min. (36 credits)	$6,400	$177.78	$533.33	$95	$50
Hybrid dual degree (63 credits)	$7,500	$119.05	$357.14	$95	$50

Honorary doctorate recognition: $1,600. This covers tuition for the three required courses, which all honorees take at the D.Min. level.

Students are billed per course. Payment plans and refunds use the per-course amount. Any difference from rounding is applied to the student's final course so the program total stays the same.

Payment plans. Flexible payment plans let students spread tuition over time. A student on a payment plan who withdraws owes only for completed courses, and any remaining balance is canceled.

The honorary doctorate fee includes the three required courses. EACU ebooks are included in tuition. Some courses require an outside textbook, which students purchase on their own, usually through Amazon or another bookseller; each course syllabus lists any required book. Commencement weekend events, such as the gala, are optional and are not part of any program fee. EACU charges no other fees.

7. Cancellation, Withdrawal, and Refund Policy

EACU follows an equitable prorated refund policy, applied the same way to every student, and pays every approved refund within 30 days of the withdrawal date.

Three-day cancellation. A student who cancels within 3 business days of enrolling receives a full refund of tuition paid.

Nonrefundable fees. The application fee and the $50 enrollment fee are nonrefundable. Together they never exceed $150.

Withdrawing from a program. Tuition for courses not yet started is refunded in full, or canceled for students on a payment plan.

Withdrawing from a course in progress. Refunds for the current 8-week course are based on the withdrawal date:

When the student withdraws	Tuition refunded for that course
Before the course begins	100%
During week 1	100%
During week 2	75%
During week 3	50%
During week 4	25%
Week 5 or later	No refund

The honorary doctorate fee is refunded on the same basis, measured against the first required course.

How the withdrawal date is set. The withdrawal date is the earliest of: (1) the date EACU receives the student's written notice of withdrawal at cfo@enochascension.com, or (2) the date of the student's last submitted coursework, once 14 consecutive days pass with no submission.

How to request a refund. Email cfo@enochascension.com with your full name, program, and the date of withdrawal.

8. Financial Assistance and Loans

EACU does not participate in federal student aid (Title IV) and does not offer, arrange, or service student loans. Students have no loan repayment obligation to EACU.

Students who use a private loan or outside financing from any other source are personally responsible for repaying it under that lender's terms, including if they withdraw.

Scholarships. EACU's Scholarship Fund provides partial and full scholarships for qualifying students, including the Founders Scholarship. The Student Success Fund helps with books, technology, travel, and emergency support. A scholarship is a gift and is never repaid.

Founders Scholarship. The Founders Scholarship honors people whose service, leadership, and ministry reflect EACU's mission.

- Award: up to the full cost of the honorary doctorate fee ($1,600), or the same support applied toward EACU degree tuition. The Founder and Chancellor sets each award amount, up to the full cost.
- Who may apply: honorary doctorate nominees and degree applicants with a record of sustained service to their church, community, or field.
- How to apply: complete the Founders Scholarship application on enochascension.com, including a statement of service of up to 300 words and one reference.
- Selection: the Founder and Chancellor reviews each application and decides. Applicants receive a written decision by email.
- Deadline: honorary doctorate applicants apply by the August 20 nomination deadline. Degree applicants apply at least 30 days before their first session.
- Terms: the award is applied directly to the student's EACU account, has no cash value, and does not transfer to another person.

Sponsorship. Donors and partners may sponsor a student's course. Sponsored amounts are applied directly to the student's account.

9. Transfer of Credits

Credits into EACU. EACU accepts transfer credit from accredited schools, whether regionally, nationally, or faith-based accredited. Students send official transcripts with their application, and credits are evaluated at admission.

Program	Maximum transfer credits	Minimum grade accepted
Bachelor's	90 of 120	C
Master's	12 of 36	B
D.Min.	6 of 36	B

The EACU Required Core and the Capstone or Doctoral Project must be completed at EACU. Military training may be considered through a Joint Services Transcript (JST), case by case.

Credits from EACU to other schools. The decision to accept transfer credits always rests with the receiving institution. Because EACU's accreditor, CITE, is not recognized by the U.S. Department of Education or CHEA, other colleges and universities may not accept EACU credits or degrees. Students planning to continue their education elsewhere should ask that institution first, before enrolling at EACU.

Hybrid dual degrees. The master's and D.Min. limits apply to each part: up to 12 credits toward the master's portion and up to 6 toward the D.Min. portion, for a maximum of 18.

10. Academic Policies

Grading. EACU uses letter grades A, B, C, D, and F, with no plus or minus.

GPA required to complete a program:

Program	Minimum GPA to graduate
Bachelor's	2.0 cumulative
Master's	3.0 cumulative
D.Min.	3.0, with no more than one grade below B

Exit examinations. EACU programs have no exit examination. D.Min. students complete a doctoral project, in research or applied ministry form, and a final oral presentation by video, reviewed by a mentor and a second reader.

Participation. Courses are self-paced. EACU tracks participation through submitted work rather than daily attendance.

Late work. Late assignments lose 10% per day past the due date.

Time limit. D.Min. students must finish within 7 years. Bachelor's students must finish within 10 years, and master's students within 7 years, of their first EACU course.

11. Professional Licensure Disclosure

No EACU program leads to, or qualifies a student for, a Florida professional license or certification, or a license in any other state.

This applies especially to these programs:

- Biblical Counseling
- Biblical Psychology
- Biblical Mindset and Mental Health
- Biblical Holistic Health
- Biblical Marriage and Family Counseling
- Biblical Life and Leadership Coaching
- Chaplaincy
- Biblical Teaching and Education

These programs prepare students for ministry and faith-based service. They do not prepare students to practice as a licensed mental health counselor, marriage and family therapist, psychologist, clinical social worker, health care provider, or certified public school teacher. Those professions require degrees and licenses from state-approved programs. Some chaplaincy settings, such as hospitals and the military, also require degrees from recognized accredited institutions.

This disclosure also appears in the EACU FAQ and on each of these degree pages on enochascension.com.

12. Employment Placement Disclosure

EACU does not provide job placement services. EACU does not promise or imply that any program leads to a job, a ministry position, a level of income, or demand for graduates in any field. An EACU degree or honorary doctorate does not guarantee credibility, employment, income, or access to any position or platform.

13. Student Conduct and Disciplinary Procedures

Students are expected to treat classmates, instructors, and staff with respect, do their own work, and engage differing views honestly and in love.

Conduct violations include:

- Plagiarism, cheating, or submitting another person's work as your own, including undisclosed AI-generated work
- Harassment, threats, or abusive language toward anyone in the EACU community
- Sharing MyEACU login access or distributing EACU course materials without permission
- Falsifying application documents, transcripts, or records

Disciplinary process:

1. The instructor or staff member who observes a concern reports it in writing to the Director of Education.
2. The Director of Education notifies the student in writing within 5 business days, describes the concern, and gives the student 7 days to respond.
3. The Director of Education reviews the response and decides the outcome within 10 business days.
4. Possible outcomes: no action, a written warning, a failing grade on the assignment or course, suspension, or dismissal.
5. The student receives the decision in writing, including how to appeal (Section 15).

Tuition refunds after a dismissal follow Section 7, using the dismissal date as the withdrawal date.

14. Student Complaints and Grievances

Any student may file a complaint about instruction, billing, services, or treatment without fear of retaliation.

1. Talk first. Where possible, raise the concern directly with the instructor or staff member involved.
2. Written complaint. If it is not resolved, email departmentofeducation@enochascension.com with your name, program, what happened, and the outcome you are asking for. Billing and refund complaints go to cfo@enochascension.com.
3. Acknowledgment. EACU confirms receipt within 5 business days.
4. Decision. The Director of Education, or the Chief Financial Officer for billing matters, sends a written decision within 15 business days.
5. Next step. A student who disagrees with the decision may appeal under Section 15.

EACU keeps a written record of every complaint and its outcome.

Outside review. A student whose complaint is not resolved after EACU's process, including appeal, may contact EACU's accreditor, the Council for Independent Theological Education (CITE), at info@citeaccreditation.com.

15. Appeals

Students may appeal a final grade, a disciplinary decision, a complaint decision, a transfer credit decision, or a refund decision.

1. Email the appeal to departmentofeducation@enochascension.com within 14 days of the written decision. State which decision you are appealing and why.
2. The Chief Curriculum Officer reviews grade and academic appeals. The Chief Executive Officer reviews disciplinary, complaint, and refund appeals. No one who made the original decision reviews the appeal.
3. The reviewer sends a written decision within 15 business days.
4. A student may make a final appeal to the Founder and Chancellor within 7 days of that decision. The Chancellor's decision is final.

During a disciplinary appeal, a student may continue coursework unless the conduct involved a threat to someone's safety.
