Program Overview

The Doctor of Ministry in Evangelism and Missions is a professional doctorate for leaders who design movements of evangelism and discipleship. Students study missional leadership, global Christianity, and evangelism through culture and media.

How EACU Is Different

Students learn to share the gospel in a multi-faith world by first understanding it from every side. They study other belief systems fairly, engage hard questions honestly, and practice evangelism that respects people while presenting the gospel with clarity.

At the doctoral level, EACU students become the ones who walk others through the evidence. Every course requires students to examine a question from every side, then build and defend their own position, and the doctoral project turns that work into something that can be taught, published, or put into practice.

> Required in every EACU degree: Biblical Interpretation (Rightly Dividing the Word), Biblical Finance and Stewardship, and Biblical Mindset and Mental Health. Every course is built with visual, auditory, reading and writing, and hands-on learning.

Program Outcomes

1. Lead missional organizations.
2. Analyze global Christianity and missions.
3. Use culture and media for evangelism.
4. Design evangelism and discipleship movements.
5. Design, conduct, and defend an original doctoral project.

Where This Degree Can Lead
